Presents

From Paris to Orlando:

Achieving Climate Justice in Our Communities

What are the United Nations Climate Change Agreements?

How will these goals affect my family and community?

How can we make our community a more sustainable place to live in?

Last month over 200 countries agreed to reduce greenhouse gas emissions globally to curb the devastating effects of climate change.

Join expert panelists, leaders, and community members as we discuss the next steps needed to successfully achieve global agreements, climate justice, and sustainability within our communities.
